Cookie notice

This website sets no cookies of its own and uses no analytics or advertising. Cookies are set only if you choose to load the booking calendar, and they come from Calendly.

This website

We store one setting in your browser, and only after you choose to load the booking calendar:

NAME	TYPE	PURPOSE	HOW LONG IT LASTS
`deeprest-calendly-consent`	Local storage	Remembers that you chose to load Calendly, so we don't ask again	Until you clear it below, or clear this site's data in your browser

Calendly, our booking system

Sessions are booked through Calendly, provided by Calendly, LLC in the United States. The booking calendar is not loaded until you ask for it, either with the button on the booking page or through the booking button at the top of each page.

Once it is loaded, your browser connects to Calendly, which sets its own cookies. Calendly shows its own cookie settings inside the calendar, where you can accept or decline its optional cookies, and its privacy notice ↗ explains how it uses cookies.

When we last checked, on 20 October 2026, loading the calendar set these cookies. Calendly decides which cookies it uses, so the list can change.

Changing your choice

On this device, you have not chosen to load the Calendly booking calendar, so it will not load until you ask for it.

Clear my choice

Clearing your choice means we will ask again before loading Calendly. It does not delete cookies Calendly has already set: you can delete those, or block them, in your browser's settings for the site calendly.com.
